

TAHQ members represent a diverse group of healthcare professionals specializing in quality/performance improvement, patient safety, case management, utilization review, infection control, and risk management. Employment venues include hospitals, home care agencies, nursing homes, managed care organizations, and consulting firms.

Healthcare quality professionals are advocates for safe, clinically sound, cost-effective, and customer-friendly patient care.

COMMITMENT

TAHQ values its strategic pillars as vital to the growth of the organization. Our members are the backbone of the organization. Education serves as the foundation for building knowledge and skills within our membership.

Partnerships allow us to grow internally and externally, to learn from each other, and to reach beyond the boundaries of our limitations.

EDUCATION

Offering high quality education is a building block for a strong membership foundation. The objective is to encourage, develop, and provide education for professional development. TAHQ offers CEU activities throughout the year to include our Annual Education Conference, and CPHQ training workshops.
